Email Confidentiality Release

Although at Edge Water Music Therapy, we are careful to protect the private information of our clients, electronic communications cannot be guaranteed to be confidential. Edge Water Music Therapy may only use email or text messaging to communicate with you at your request and with your permission. At Edge Water Music Therapy, we take precautions to ensure that emails sent to us are confidential. However, we are unable to control the privacy of emails that we send to you.

If you agree to communicate by email and/or text, please check the top box below.

If you would NOT like communication through email, check the bottom box below. By doing so, we will be unable to communicate electronically with you. Communication will take place by phone and U.S. Postal Service.

I understand the risk, and would like to correspond with Edge Water Music Therapy therapists and employees electronically (email and text).

I would NOT like to correspond with Edge Water Music Therapy therapists or employees by email. Please use phone or U.S. Postal Service to provide all communication.
